

GO WILD WITH LMI 2016 - 2017

Promoting the key messages about Labour Market Information is not always easy. Full of facts and figures about the changing nature of the workforce and the people in it, the rise and fall of job sectors and the types of work available, LMI can seem impenetrable to most people. This applies not only to professional staff trying to make sense of it for their clients but also to young people and adults trying to make career decisions about where to focus their job-hunting efforts.

All the activities in Go Wild With LMI have been designed to be 'user-friendly', avoiding excessive use of jargon and statistics. With activities to support the Gatsby benchmarks and the CDI Framework this is an invaluable resource for:

- Careers Services involved in training staff in key aspects of LMI
- Schools and colleges for use within careers education programmes
- Any other professional staff involved in promoting LMI to young people.
